

How to draw a reindeer

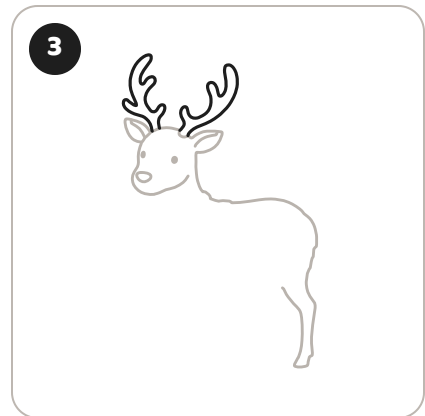

One step at a time: the black lines are new, the gray ones you drew already.

Let's draw Dancer the reindeer! One long line: head, back, and a back leg.

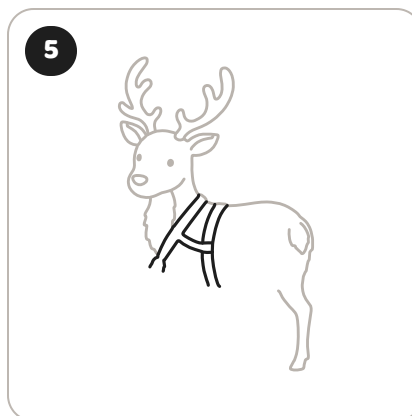

Now two ears with a line inside, a nose, and two dot eyes.

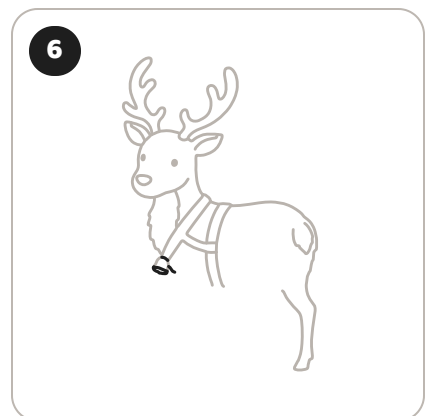

Now his big branchy antlers, one on each side.

Now wavy fur lines on his chest, and a little tail.

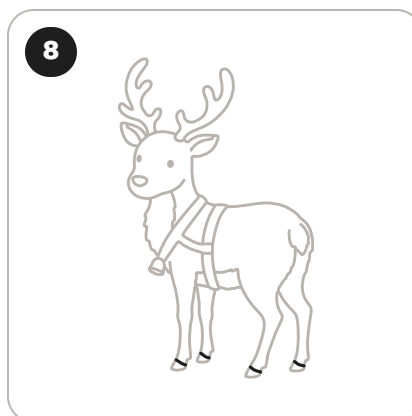

Now his harness: a strap around his neck and one around his middle.

Now a little bell hanging where the straps meet.

Now two front legs, his tummy line, and the other back leg.

Last, a little hoof line on each foot. Hello, Dancer!
